Although they are conciſe, they will be found ſo plain, being worked in the ſame manner as the Tables in other Books of Intereſt.

The Reader will find a great Number of Examples, by which he will ſee the Nature of their Conſtruction and Uſe.

The value of the fraction or broken part of a penny, may be eaſily known by what follows:

You are to ſuppoſe the penny to be divided into 1000 parts, therefore as 250, 500 and 750, are one fourth, one half, and three-fourths reſpectively of the ſaid thouſand, ſo will
